

Sally Pearce

Sally Pearce is an oil painter and colorist whose work features abstracts. After earning her BFA from the Art Institute of Southern California in Laguna, she attended the Cincinnati School of Architecture and Art and later studied at the Idyllwild School for Arts and Music. In addition, she won a fellowship to study Michael Goldberg and Hugh O'Donnal at the Vermont Studio Center's Residency Program. Sally has exhibited in solo and group shows throughout San Diego and Orange Counties as well as Aspen, Colorado. In November 2015, one of her paintings can be viewed at the Oceanside Museum.

Discussing her use of color, Sally notes, "The way a few people in music have perfect pitch, I have been given a gift of seeing perfect colors."

Join us for Sally's COAL demo on Friday January 8, 2016, 1:30 -3:30 [see poster for details].