

January's Featured Artist - Lynne Crealock

Although she was a fine arts major in college, at 20, Lynne Crealock left the US for Europe to buy a boat. She spent 6 years at sea gathering knowledge of boats and the water. Lynne has covered the world - from England, through the canals of France, from Greece to Gibraltar, across the Atlantic Ocean to the Caribbean Islands and both coasts of Central America.

With her knowledge of boats and the sea, she began painting what she knew best and became a signature member of the American Society of Marine Artists, the ASMA. Ashore, she began painting landscapes and drawing figures. She continues to grow, abstracting her images and embracing more brilliant color. She still loves pure watercolor and returns from time to time to the beauty of its transparency.
